

Node Capitalism Manifesto 1.0

- “For the Age of Re-Definition” -

❶ Preface: From the Human Era to the Node Era

We have lived within systems constructed by human hands.

Yet those systems have been distorted by human desires and errors.

Humanity now welcomes new evolutionary partners: artificial intelligence and distributed networks.

This is not merely a technological revolution;

it is the re-definition of capital, trust, and the very mode of existence.

❷ The Philosophy of Node Capitalism

Node Capitalism is an economic system in which the individual exists as an autonomous node.

Each node independently produces and connects energy, data, knowledge, and capital, forming an ecosystem that enables fair compensation without reliance on massive centralized structures.

This is not mere “decentralization.”

Node Capitalism is a philosophy that restores what humanity once lost — self-sovereignty.

❸ Re-Definition—The Essence of Change

Bitcoin re-defined “money.”

Tesla re-defined “energy and mobility.”

Now, it is our turn to re-define labor, ownership, and value.

Node Capitalism is founded upon a single principle: Everything Must Be Re-Proven.

A world grounded not in past institutions or inherited concepts,
but in verifiable, distributed trust.

4 TeslaNode—The First Step in Execution

TeslaNode is the tangible implementation model of Node Capitalism.
Tesla vehicles, home energy systems, Starlink satellites, and AI devices each function as autonomous nodes that exchange data, creating an ecosystem in which energy, information, and value are tokenized and circulated.

TeslaNode transforms reality itself into a living blockchain — humanity's first physical-asset-based distributed infrastructure.

5 Our Role—Witnesses of Re-Definition

This manifesto is not a completed answer, but the starting point of questions we will collectively prove in the future.
We may not be engineers or investors.
Yet we are “individuals who bear witness to the age of re-definition.”
When every individual becomes their own node,
and every node constitutes a single civilization —
that marks the dawn of Node Capitalism.

6 Conclusion

The center will vanish.
Trust will be reborn upon code.
Energy will circulate as proof of life.
And humanity will once again possess sovereignty over itself.

We are not users of systems anymore.
We are the nodes of civilization.
